(Sinai University), and the (Ecole des Mines d'Albi Carmaux),

- Jointly seeking to strengthen existing links of cooperation between their respective countries,
- Seeking also to develop cooperation in their respective fields and to define the general rules for such cooperation.

Enter into an agreement of cooperation to establish a program of academic and scientific exchange and collaboration in areas of interest and benefit to both institutions.

Article 1 – Purpose

The main purpose of the cooperation is to foster collaboration, provide opportunity for global experience, and facilitate advancement of knowledge on the basis of reciprocity, best effort, mutual benefit, and frequent interactions between Sinai University and EMAC in the fields of teaching and research.

Article 2 – Scope of cooperation

Article 2.1

To achieve these goals, the Sinai University and EMAC will, insofar as the means of each allow :

1. Invite academic representatives of the other institution, when appropriate, to participate in symposia, conferences, short courses and meetings on research issues.
2. Promote institutional exchanges by inviting faculty and staff of the partner institution to participate in a variety of teaching and/or research activities and professional development
3. Exchange information pertaining to developments in teaching, student development, and research at each institution.
4. Cooperate in joint research programs in areas of mutual interest.
5. Receive selected graduate and undergraduate students of the partner institution for a period of study, internship or research.
6. Provide joint tutoring and supervision by the academic staff in graduation projects and doctoral theses as deemed appropriate by both parties
7. Engage in any other form of educational, scientific or technical cooperation on agreement between the two parties concerned.

Article 2.2

The general agreement of academic and scientific cooperation shall be identified as the parent document of any program agreement executed between the parties. Further agreements concerning any program shall provide details concerning the specific commitments made by each party and shall not become effective until they have been reduced to writing, approved and executed by the duly authorized representatives of the parties. The scope of the activities under this agreement shall be determined by the funds regularly available at both institutions for the types of collaboration undertaken. All expenses and financial arrangements will be specified in a separate agreement.

Article 2.3

Both parties agree to endeavour to secure governmental or corporate funding where possible in order to support the collaborative activities covered by this agreement.

Article 3 – Organisation and coordination of the cooperation

Proposals for cooperation in specific areas will be communicated to the coordinator designated to oversee and facilitate implementation of this agreement. The coordinator will submit the proposals to the other partner institution for approval.

The two parties agree to consult as deemed necessary and to hold an annual coordination meeting, if possible, to discuss on-going and future actions:

The designated coordinators of this cooperation are for EMAC :

- Pr John DODDS:

And for Sinai university:

- President. Prof. Dr. Mahmoud Sherif :

Article 4

Upon approval by each institution, this agreement shall remain in effect until terminated by either institution. Such termination by one institution shall be effected by giving at least six (six) months advance written notice of its intention to terminate. Termination shall be without penalty. If this agreement is terminated, neither Sinai University or EMAC shall be liable to the other for any monetary or other losses that may result. Every three (3) years the two parties will meet to evaluate the actions resulting from the cooperation.
